Offered by its first owner, this beautiful steel mirror-stern motor ship was built by Jachtbouw Woudenberg and fully fitted out by Engelaer in Beneden-Leeuwen.

On board, many details and technical elements from commercial shipping can be recognized. The elegantly continuous superstructure gives the interior more volume and a comfortable standing height.

This ship has two spacious double cabins, both equipped with private en-suite bathrooms. The saloon and the galley are openly connected, creating a spacious feeling and pleasant interaction. The interior is richly finished with great attention to detail.

The engine room is generously sized and provides good access to all technical systems. The engines are indirectly cooled via a Blokland vlak-/beunkoeler and the ship is equipped with a VDO rudder position indicator. In addition, she has five deck hatches in the superstructure for ventilation. She can be steered both, from the saloon and from the aft deck. The side decks run level all around, ensuring safe passage on deck. In both the bow and stern, there is a steel collision bulkhead, and she is equipped with two new propellers as spares on board.

This ship, named "Lieneke", is equipped with, among other things, a lockable enclosure around the helm position and a foldable bimini over the aft deck. The aft deck features transparent bulwark panels in the railing, a foldable radar arch, and a removable stainless-steel side ladder with good handholds, as well as a cover for the exterior steering position, a companion bench, a removable helm chair, and stainless-steel fender holders on the railing suitable for 10 fenders.

The saloon is spacious and features two sliding windows, a tilt window, and a Pioneer radio. The galley includes a Bosch dishwasher, and in the aft bathroom there is a washing machine, although its working condition is unknown.

The air draft is approximately 3.50 meters with the arch folded down and approximately 4.00 meters with the arch up.

For questions and/or to make an appointment, you are welcome seven days a week at Elburg Yachting
